“THE RETREAT IS NOTHING LIKE I HAVE SEEN BEFORE. IT’S A PLACE TO REFLECT WITH NATURE AND SOLITUDE, A PLACE WHERE GUESTS LEARN ABOUT THE COMMUNITY AND KENYA’S WILDLIFE” CNN

IN 2025 SEGERA REINTRODUCED CRITICALLY ENDANGERED EASTERN BLACK RHINO TO THE CONSERVANCY AFTER A 60 YEAR ABSENCE. YOU CAN NOW SEE ELEPHANT, LION, BUFFALO, LEOPARD AND RHINO ALONG WITH CHEETAH, ENDANGERED RETICULATED GIRAFFE, GREVY'S ZEBRA, PLAINS GAME AND UP TO 150 BIRD SPECIES

SUSTAINABLE LUXURY

Segera's ecologically sound practices pro-actively enhance comfort. Our solar installations provide energy for the entire lodge – even the heat for the dramatic outdoor baths comes from the sun, while recycled and captured rain-water feeds the verdant gardens. Homegrown vegetables are pulled fresh from the earth to enrich daily menus. Fences have been removed to open up migratory corridors, increasing the land mass available to roaming animals and allowing for thriving prides and herds – and the luxury of incredible game viewing. When given the chance nature embraces repair and regeneration.

THE RETREAT

Segera's layout pivots around its heritage as a Kenyan cattle ranch – the Garden Villas and main pool are set within the original cactus walled boma that used to protect cattle from predators, the Farmhouse faces east into the sunrise and the heart of the lodge, kitchen and ops centre is within a courtyard of modernised farm outbuildings - even the horse stables have been upcycled into a spectacular guest interaction point for dining, lounging and viewing art installations. You'll see barn doors used as tables, threshing tools reimagined as lights - this legacy gives Segera a tangible authenticity. The Stables (below) will soon become one of your favourite places in the world – with weathered wooden stalls converted into a gallery space, soulful furniture gathered into a lounge alongside a huge open fire that draws you like a moth to its flames.

THE GARDENS

Severa's oasis like garden is unique in the world -- meandering pathways, a stream, ponds and waterfalls, succulent gardens and flickering palm fronds makes it feel as if you are on an island of green. As you stroll, you can view artworks from the extensive Zeitz Collection and, in the centre of the garden, you'll find a beautiful saltwater pool surrounded by palms, daybeds and a poolside bar with a laid-back, Lamu style. Severa's gardens are also protected from the wild so you don't need an escort to get to your villa -- you can feel at home to explore and walk around whenever you choose.

THE ZEITZ COLLECTION

Segera is home to an impressive collection of contemporary art from Africa and its diaspora—known as the Zeitz Collection. A stroll through the botanical gardens will reveal dramatic wire sculptures, monumental steel, stone, and bronze works, land and earth art, outdoor projections and site-specific interventions. In the Stables and Paddock House you can view water-colours, video installations, prints, etchings and paintings from artists who are shaping the modern African art collections of our time. On drives you'll find land art dramatically punctuating the landscape – opening up thoughts and dialogues. During your stay you can take a Segera Art Tour with one of our experts to find out more about the artworks, artists and ethos.

THE SEGERA STYLE

You'll immediately get the feeling that this is the home of legacy makers. There is a sense of monumentality, of this place existing forever, where the seasons have weathered the wood and smoothed the stone, where the solidity of rock walls is softened by the fringes of twisted thatch roofs and chiming of recycled glass chandeliers. It's elegant but also heartwarming, it is inspiring and modern yet rooted in ranch history – the architecture reflects past and present. Earthenware, glass, copper and stone contrast with sharp black graphics and modernist furniture. Brass lanterns flicker at night and create safari ambience that is reflected in modern black glasshouse doors and objects from across the continent – a video installation creates a dialogue, a meal transports the palette.

THE SEGERA STYLE

Segera interiors have a contemporary take on safari romance. You'll see a grouping of loved objects that, like a family, are all different but belong together.

There are beautiful, tangible details – an artwork, a tousel of glass beads flung in a bowl, wild herbs scenting the air. Huge jars of homemade pickles, or pots of jams and honey have handwritten labels.

There is a sense of effortless beauty and a feeling of home.

WILDLIFE

Segera's 50 000 acres of private wild land (an area 3.5 times the size of Manhattan) is in the scenic region of Laikipia in Kenya's central highlands. Segera is a crucial part of the EWASO ecosystem—providing vital migratory corridors right in the heart of the Laikipia plateau—a conservancy area of 9500km². Laikipia has incredible game density and is the only part of the country where the wildlife and the habitat are increasing thanks to incredible collective conservation efforts.

BIG FIVE AND MORE

Rich diversity and big five game viewing includes lion, elephant, cheetah, leopard, buffalo, rhino, vast journeys of giraffe and huge zebra herds. You'll also see endangered species such as Grevy's Zebra, Lelwel's Hartebeest alongside a range of plains-game, hippo, and reptiles on daily drives. Birdlife is abundant and more than 150 bird species have been recorded here.

Game drives are all private with your own, dedicated guide so your experience can be shaped to your specific interests. Our wonderful guides can enrich your journey with knowledge about tracking or even local uses of medicinal plants.

His hands are clasped together in a prayer-like gesture, held up towards a bright, warm light source that creates a strong backlighting effect. The light is diffused, possibly coming from a window with sheer curtains, creating a soft, golden glow. The man's face and hands are dark against the bright background. The overall mood is contemplative and serene.

Your children will learn more about wildlife, local culture and the environment along with discovering a deep connection to nature.

EVERY STAY CHANGES LIVES

Segera is a catalyst for change. Over the last decade what started as degraded land has literally been brought back to life. Not only is the entire retreat solar powered, but our rainwater is harvested and waste is composted or recycled. The in-house bottling plant also cuts out the use of plastic bottles. Every gesture we make is considered for its environmental impact.

The ZEITZ foundation and its legacy projects also directly and indirectly touch the lives of several thousand people, including initiatives that empower the local community with training and support such as East Africa's first female Anti-Poaching Ranger Unit, the SATUBO women's beading project and the 'Tree of Life' Reforestation project. Through the ZEITZ Foundation you can actively engage in the important conservation projects that are protecting Segera's wildlife and the vital initiatives improving the lives of local Kenyan communities. As a guest you are welcome to visit these projects and get as involved as you prefer.

EVERY STAY CHANGES MINDS

Sustainable thinking also grows in the gardens of the six local schools and the kindergarten supported by Segera and built by the ZEITZ foundation donors and partners—this has a powerful effect on the lives of the communities that live alongside Segera. As a guest you can visit these schools and witness the ZEITZ foundation initiatives as they help inspire young minds.

In the background, there are rolling hills and a cloudy sky. The image is split vertically: the left half is black and white, and the right half is a sepia-toned version of the same image.

ETHOS: SEGERA WAS BUILT TO CREATE A SUSTAINABLE CONCEPT FOR THE ENVIRONMENT—SOMETHING THAT WOULD BOTH GIVE BACK AND PAY FORWARD.

Every stay contributes to the livelihoods and traditional cultures of local communities. Unique opportunities are offered to visitors to learn from and about the indigenous people, their centuries-old traditions and ways of life. Segera not only provides employment for nearby villages, but also a wide range of opportunities to improve livelihoods by harnessing traditional skills such as beading and traditional knowledge of medicinal plants. The results of the programs have been incredible. The ZEITZ Foundation has built 6 schools that educate 1,800 local kids, including the "Waterbank School" which harvests rainwater and won LEED Architecture's "Greenest School In The World" award.

Segera is critical to the EWASO Ecosystem in terms of its central location in Laikipia, providing a long-term migratory corridors for elephant and other species. Currently a huge reforestation program is underway to restore degraded land, enhance topsoil fertility, reduce erosion and off-set carbon emissions. Segera is also part of a nationwide plan to expand the community of critically endangered Eastern Black Rhino through gene diversity and land expansion. In 2025 Segera welcomed the first rhino population to the Segera Rhino Sanctuary after a 60 year absence.

Our intention is to create a ripple effect of sustainable impact – to create and support regeneration for generations to come.
